A symbol is used to identify which form rule concerns the judge. A ~ stands for lifting both shoes off the ground. A > stands for bent knee.

The time of day follows the symbol for the form rule.

A yellow paddle means the judge was concerned about the legality of the walker, but gave the benefit of the doubt to the athlete.

A yellow paddle is shown to the athlete by the judge immediately.

A red card means the judge decided that the walker was not legal.

A red card is not show to the athlete by the judge, but posted on a DQ board instead so all walkers can see.

A walker does not know which judges issued red cards until the judges summary sheet is posted after the race.

It takes 3 red cards from 3 different judges to disqualify a walker.
