

The Course

The course is the Lake Wobegon® Regional Trail from Melrose to St Joseph in central Minnesota. The course travels through rural Minnesota encountering interesting small towns, lakes, wet lands and farms. This is the area of Minnesota that provided the foundation for Garrison Keillor's "The News from Lake Wobegon."

In the middle of May, central Minnesota is green and growing. You'll have a chance to see a wide variety of birds, common farm animals, and if you are lucky a hawk, heron, beaver, muskrat, or deer. Most of all, you'll get to experience the peace of rural Minnesota.

You'll encounter the main streets of small town Minnesota as you traverse Melrose, Freeport, Albany, and Avon before finishing in St Joseph. Just off the trail you'll see small shops, cafés and city parks. You might be tempted to stop for a snack, or to rest for a bit under a shade tree.

The Lake Wobegon Regional Trail is a 10 foot (3 meter) wide asphalt trail built on a no longer used railroad right-of-way. The trail surface is in good condition, providing a smooth walking surface. There are no steep hills. The whole trail is pretty flat, with the longest uphill gaining only 75 feet (23 meters) over 3½ miles (5.6 km). Not only that, but the start is at a slightly higher elevation than the finish, with a nice, long and gentle downhill taking you the last 5 miles (8 km) into the finish. There is no camber (side to side slope), making the course easier on the ankles.

There are no sharp turns or corners. It is next to impossible to get lost.

The marathon course has USATF certification MN-8011-RR. The half marathon course has USATF certification MN-8010-RR. Certification ensures that the course is accurately measured.

The Finish

Mile marker 82 on the Lake Wobegon trail is the finish line. This is just west of College Ave in St. Joseph. The trailhead building is located on the east side at 572 College Ave, about 100m east of the finish line.

Getting to the Start

Bus transportation is provided from the trailhead building in St Joseph to the starting line. The buses for the marathon and 50km leave for the starting line in Melrose at 6am. The buses for the half marathon leave for the starting line in Albany at 7:45am.

Everyone should take the buses to the starting line, as parking is extremely limited in these small towns and there is no shuttle service back to the start from the finish.

Aid Stations & Water Stops

Every 2-3 miles, you'll encounter an Aid Station or Water Stop.

The Aid Stations are every 4-6 miles (usually in the heart of a small town) and are staffed with volunteers. Aid Stations are stocked with water, sports drinks, fruit and energy snacks. For walkers where time is of the essence, we have a splash & go section in each Aid Station. Some Aid Stations have a real bathroom and the others have a port-a-potty.

Water Stops are located approximately equidistant between each of the Aid Stations. Water stops have water, sports drink, but no volunteer.

In each of the small towns, you can also drop into a quick mart for a snack, or into restaurant for some real food while you rest your feet.

Spectators

The towns of Melrose, Freeport, Albany, Avon and St Joseph provide the best viewing points. All other access points to the trail are rural crossroads, and should be used with care.

We Walk! Marathon, Half Marathon & 50km

May 21, 2011 St Joseph, MN

Styles of Walking

Walking means that at least one foot appears to be touching the ground at all times. Strolling, hiking, fitness walking, power walking and ordinary walking all follow this rule, as do Nordic walking and race walking.

Power Walking means that you plan to walk fast, but don't want to worry about the rules of race walking.

Race Walking means that you must follow USATF rule 232.2: "[...] a progression of steps so taken that the [race] walker makes contact with the ground so that no visible (to the human eye) loss of contact occurs. The advancing leg must be straightened (i.e., not bent at the knee) from the moment of first contact with the ground until the leg is in the vertical upright position."

Nordic Walking means that you must walk and use one walking pole in each hand on every step.

Walk/Run means that you walk part of the time and (gasp) run or jog part of the time.

Select Your Style

You select a walking style and follow your selected style for the entire distance of your event.

Walking Judges

We have USATF certified walking judges on the course. If a judge sees anyone running, they move them into the walk/run style. If a judge sees a Nordic walker carrying their poles instead of using them, they move them to the walking style. If a judge sees a race walker violating the "straightened at the knee" rule, they move them to the power walking style.

Walking judges are on the course to make the styles of walking mean something, not to ask you to change how you walk.
